Education

- 2023 · PhD, Antarctic Studies, University of Canterbury, New Zealand
  Thesis: Ice tongue stability in a changing climate
- 2018 · MSc, Oceanography, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande, Brazil
- 2006 · Industrial Engineering, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Valparaíso, Chile

Employment

- 2026–present · Postdoctoral Fellow, Gateway Antarctica, University of Canterbury
- 2023–2026 · Geospatial Research Scientist, Waterways Centre, University of Canterbury
- 2023 · Research Assistant, University of Canterbury
- 2020–2023 · Teaching Assistant (part-time), University of Canterbury
- 2019–2023 · New Zealand Representative (part-time), DAP Airlines & Logistics
- 2018 · Researcher, CEQUA research centre, Chile
- 2014–2016 · Project Manager, CEQUA research centre, Chile

Awards and grants

Research grants and projects

- 2026 · Co-PI, Remote Sensing of Canterbury Hāpua Dynamics: delineation and analysis of hāpua change using a CNN model
- 2026 · AI in COSMO-SkyMed, Project ID 4362 Glaciers: tasking SAR data over the New Zealand Alps
- 2025–2027 · BIOMASS mission calibration and validation for Antarctic ice shelves, using pRES and airborne SAR
- 2025–2027 · Catalyst project: novel high-resolution imaging for glacial environments with polarimetric RADARSAT Constellation Mission data

Awards and scholarships

- 2023 · Best student presentation, SIRG Annual Meeting
- 2023 · Best student presentation, New Zealand Sea Ice Symposium
- 2023 · Scholarship to attend the IFT-R3S Summer School (Auckland, New Zealand)
- 2021–2022 · Antarctica New Zealand Sir Robin Irvine Doctoral Scholarship
- 2019–2022 · University of Canterbury Doctoral Scholarship
- 2017 · Scholarship to attend the POLENET Glacial Seismology Training School (Fort Collins, USA)
- 2016–2018 · Brazilian CNPq MSc Scholarship

Teaching and supervision

- 2020–2023 · Teaching Assistant (part-time), University of Canterbury
- 2026 · Delivered two SAR laboratory sessions at the 2nd IEEE GRSS NZ Radar Remote Sensing School
- Member of the supervisory team of a PhD student studying fast ice and ice shelf interactions in McMurdo Sound
- Helped supervise two MSc students at the Waterways Centre: mapping the Ashley braided river floodplain, and identifying hāpua with a CNN model
- Supervised three honours students working on New Zealand glaciers with SAR data
- 2023 · Mentor, Adopt a Scientist programme, Lincoln High School
- 2020–present · Guest lectures for Environment Canterbury (ECan), the Ministry for the Environment, Chinese and Brazilian delegations visiting the University of Canterbury, and the aerospace community

Invited talks and panels
